➤ What is a Cookie?

A Cookie is a device for storing and retrieving data from the terminal equipment (PC, laptop, telephone or any other device) of a natural or legal person using, whether or not for professional purposes, a service provided by this responsible entity. Such cookies may not be used to start programs, transfer viruses or damage the user's terminal in any way.

While this policy uses the general term "Cookie" as the primary method of storing information used by this website, the "Local Storage" space on your browser is also used for the same purposes as Cookies. In this sense, all the information included in this section is equally applicable to this "Local Storage".

➤ What are Cookies used for on this website?

Our users' cookies help us to improve the quality of our website, allowing us to control which pages are useful, which are not and which are susceptible to improvement. Cookies are essential to improve the user's browsing experience, providing advantages in the provision of interactive services, facilitating the navigation and usability of our website..

The information collected in Cookies also allows us to improve the website by estimating numbers and usage patterns, tailoring the website to individual user interests, speeding up searches, etc.

➤ What are Cookies NOT used for on this website?

We do not store sensitive personal identification information such as your address, password, credit or debit card data, etc. in the cookies we use.

➤ How can I set or disable Cookies on this website?

Internet browsers are regularly set to accept cookies. To prevent the use of cookies in your Internet browser, you can disable the use of cookies through your Internet browser settings and delete the cookies already set.

The help functions of your Internet browser tell you how to disable and delete cookies from your browser. Please note that the deactivation/deletion of cookies may cause the individual functions of our website to no longer function as expected. Furthermore, the deactivation/deletion of cookies only affects the Internet browser you are currently using. For other Internet browsers, the deactivation/deletion of cookies must be performed again. Cookies, which may be necessary for certain functions of our website, are shown below.

In addition, there are several ways to avoid the installation of certain cookies, either by selecting them in the banner or pop-up that we show you when you access our website, or individually for the corresponding service provider whose tools we use for certain purposes. We will indicate the latter possibility in the section below called “How to disable cookies in your browser” or you can access it directly by pressing +info

➤ What kind of cookies are there?

Below is a classification of cookies according to a series of categories. However, it is necessary to take into account that the same cookie may be included in more than one category.

Cookies categories according to...	Types	Purpose
Ownership	Own	Those that are sent to the user's terminal equipment from a computer or domain managed by the publisher himself and from which the service requested by the user is provided
	Third parties	Those that are sent to the user's terminal equipment from a computer or domain that is not managed by the publisher, but by another entity that processes the data obtained through cookies.
Purpose	Techniques (Exempt from the consent requirement of the LISSEC)	Those that allow the user to navigate through a web page, platform or application and to use the different options or services that exist therein, including those that the publisher uses to allow the management and operation of the web page and to enable its functions and services, for example: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Data communication ▪ Identify the session ▪ Access to restricted parts ▪ To carry out the purchase process of an order, to manage the payment ▪ Security service ▪ Enable dynamic content (animation) ▪ Advertising space management ▪ (...)
	Customization	Those that allow remembering information for the user to access the service with certain characteristics

Uptime		that may differentiate the user's experience from that of other users.
	Analysis	Those that allow the party responsible for them to monitor and analyze the behavior of users of the websites to which they are linked, including the quantification of the impacts of advertisements. The information collected through this type of cookies is used in the measurement of the activity of the websites, application or platform, in order to make improvements.
	Behavioral advertising	Those that store information on user behavior obtained through the continuous observation of their browsing habits, allowing the development of a specific profile to display advertising based on it.
	Session	Those designed to collect and store data while the user accesses a web page. They are usually used to store information that is only relevant to the provision of the service requested by the user on one occasion (for example, a list of products purchased) and disappear when the session ends.
	Persistent	Those in which the data is still stored in the terminal and can be accessed and processed during a period defined by the person responsible for the cookie, which can range from a few minutes to several years.

➤ Why is it mandatory for the user to give his express consent?

In accordance with Law 34/2002, of 11 July, on Information Society Services and Electronic Commerce, the Responsible Entity may install cookies and similar technologies on users' devices if they give their prior consent and provide clear and complete information on the purposes of their use. The aim of this Policy is to provide such information in a useful way for the user.

This consent may be obtained by means of express formulas, such as clicking on a section indicating "I consent", "I accept", or other similar terms. It may also be obtained by inferring it from an unequivocal action carried out by the user, in a context where the user has been provided with clear and accessible information on the purposes of the cookies and whether they are going to be used by the same publisher and/or by third parties, so that it can be understood that the user accepts that cookies are installed. In no case does the mere inactivity of the user imply the provision of consent by itself.

In the banner or pop-up the user will find the following buttons to choose from:

In accordance with Article 22(2) of the LISSEC, consent must be given by the "recipients" of information society services, i.e. the user of the website, platform or application.

➤ When is the Responsible Entity exempt from requesting the user's express consent?

It should be noted that cookies used for any of the following purposes are exempt from the obligations established in article 22.2 of the LISSEC:

- “User input” cookies.
- Authentication or user identification cookies (session only).
- User Security Cookies.
- Media player session cookies.
- Session cookies to balance the load.
- User interface customization cookies.
- Plug-in cookies to exchange social content (The exception only applies to users who have decided to keep the session open).
- Cookies are served from a computer or domain managed by the publisher himself, but the information collected is managed by a third party for its own purposes.
- Provide a service expressly requested by the user (e.g. language selection)
